A LESSON IN VALUES

Sign of the times is this advertisement in The Western Star, Corner Brook, Newfoundland.

"Wanted—We want a telephone urgently in our business. Repeated application has failed to get us one on double or even triple rental basis. We offer $200 or more to any individual who will relinquish his rights to a telephone and make proper arrangements for its transfer. Public Service Bureau, Corner Brook, Nfld."

RAIL EMPLOYEE DIES AT MACLEOD

Well known railroader in Southern Alberta for the past thirty-six years, Olaf Erickson, 56, C.P.R. roadmaster on the Macleod subdivision between Macleod and Calgary, died on Sunday morning at Macleod following a short illness. He is survived by his wife, and one son, who is with the armed forces and stationed at the Pacific coast.

The late Mr. Erickson entered the service September 28th, 1907, at Grassy Lake, where he was section foreman and worked at various points on the Lethbridge and Medicine Hat divisions. He came to the Lethbridge yard as section foreman July 1st, 1937, and was appointed roadmaster September 1st, 1938, when he went to Manyberries. On May 1st, 1942, Mr. Erickson was transferred to the division with headquarters at Macleod.

A moving picture has been made in England of the activities of the 13th Field Company, Royal Canadian Engineers, showing their work and life overseas. A recent showing of this film was made in Calgary to over 300 people, relatives and friends of the soldiers. Mrs. J. S. Kerr, of Blairmore, was a guest of Mrs. (Major) Choate at the show and reports the picture very interesting; one portion of the film being made up of a close-up of every member of the regiment, and Mrs. Kerr reports that every boy in the regiment from the Crown's Nest Pass can be easily recognized. Efforts are being made by the Blairmore Branch of the Canadian Legion to have the picture brought down from Calgary and shown in the Pass towns.

CPL. MARGARET ADLAM BECOMES THE BRIDE

OF PTE. W. FERGUSON

The North Hill United church, Calgary, was the scene of an all-military wedding recently, when Corporal Margaret Adlam, CWAC, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Adlam, became the bride of Private William Ferguson, of Magrath. Rev. H. G. Rees officiated.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, and her attendants were Private Dorothy Vicki and Corporal Ruth Bremner, of the CWAC. Corporal Henry Pelletier and Lance Corporal Alfred Ames attended the bridegroom.

During the signing of the register, Miss Alice Fraser sang "I Love You Truly."

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Adlam and Mrs. Ferguson received the guests. A tiered wedding cake, flanked with tall silver candles, centered the table.

Those who assisted with the serving were Miss Mary Adlam, sister of the bride, and Miss Helen Ferguson, sister of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Percy Salt was at the piano during the reception.

Adlams were former residents of Hillcrest.

Wall Eddy, pioneer of the Lundbreck district, was a visitor to Blairmore yesterday. About eighty-two years young, Wall could take on any present high school pupil for a contest thirty-mile tramp any day, and really wouldn't take it as a gross insult to do so. He is the most marvelous specimen of a prohibitionist there has been for many years, and, really, lots of the 25-year-olds must figure they have lost out somewhere. He has the pep, or "pepper," that he had 30 years ago, plus a little more. In fact, Wall should be recommended for the post of vintologist at the Alberta University.

PINCHER CREEK COUPLE CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. H. Marquis, well known oldtimers of Pincher Creek, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Saturday and Monday last. ## NINE FISH POOLS AT PINCHER CREEK

An enterprise at Pincher Creek, which has turned into a large project, has been under construction for the past two weeks, in the building of fish pools.

Nine such pools have thus far been built and average in length some 50 feet, by approximately 15 feet wide, and will contain several feet of water. These pools are built at varying levels, spillways connect each pool, and are built at a central location in town. Plans are being formulated to make a park site of this location by the creek.

A plentiful supply of water is available for the pools by means of springs, and recently 700 feet of 8-inch steel casing were purchased, which will be laid and tapped into the creek where a gravity system will feed the pools. Water is at present turned into the ponds and they are filling rapidly from the springs and town supply.

It is expected that several hundred thousand fingerlings will be placed here on completion of the project. At present another pond is being constructed in the town centre near the creek, where large fish will be exhibited to the public. Fingerlings reared here last year, of which there are at present some 25,000 returned from winter pools, are now from three to six inches in length and in excellent condition.

F. Aastrup, provincial fish and game superintendent, is supervising the construction of the pools at Pincher Creek and claims the location one of the best in the province.

Issue New Letter

Catholic Bishops in Holland Openly Defy Nazi Racial Threats

In open defiance of Nazi threats of reprisals for any further opposition to the occupation authorities, Holland's Catholic bishops have issued a new pastoral letter condemning the conscription of Dutchmen for forced labor, it was learned.

The letter was read in Catholic churches throughout Holland on May 16. It followed a wave of strikes and violence earlier in the month, in which hundreds of Dutch citizens were executed.

The bishops' letter attacked the Nazi claim of fighting a crusade for the abolition of Bolshevism, terming this "only a catchword."

The statement said those wishing to fight against Bolshevism "must not suppress Christianity with all manner of means, as is done by Nazism."

Used With Success

Sterilized Wrappings From Cigarette Packages Help in Healing Wounds. Transparent cigarette package wrappings sterilized in boiling water have been used with great success in dressing open wounds and ulcers in the hospital at Lagos, Nigeria, according to Dr. M. Ellis of the British Colonial Medical Service.

In an article in the British Medical Journal Dr. Ellis writes that the wrappings have the advantage of being non-irritant and also permit the inspection of wounds without having to uncover them. "We believe," Dr. Ellis says, "that the rate of healing is increased by that type of dressing."

WILL BE PUNISHED

Enjoying Her Work

Woman in West Coast Shipyard Is Expert Rivet Framer

"I became a rivet framer and I love it," said 21-year-old Mrs. Del Elliott of Victoria as she hoisted herself through a narrow pathway in a half-built frigate.

Mrs. Elliott, mother of a 13-month-old daughter, wondered what she would do in a shipyard when she traded a nurse's uniform for a greasy pair of overalls. She hadn't long to wonder—soon she was tossing rivets, cold ones at first, over short distances to another girl with a tin funnel-like container.

Before long, however, she was passing the hot, rivets short distances, and slowly but surely her accuracy and distance increased until today she can easily toss a red-hot rivet anywhere it is needed.

"One day," she said, "I was working with a riveter who drove 1,200 rivets. I got a great kick out of being able to do my job well enough to help him drive that many rivets in a single day."

Genius And Talent

Have Been Richly Bestowed On Prime Minister Of Britain

Churchill started painting pictures as a recreation after the last war. In 1930 he exhibited paintings at Paris under the name of Charles Morin, and when his works were reviewed, the experts declared that "this young man has a future." As a matter of fact, his productions generally have been well above the ordinary. And he is a good union bricklayer, too. Genius and talent have been prodigally bestowed on this Englishman, the greatest of this age.—St. Catharines Standard.

UNPLEASANT—BUT NECESSARY

Rudyard Kipling was at his best when immortalizing the colorful British private soldier in prose and verse. A staff officer once asked Kipling why he did not do the same for those of higher military rank. The poet replied that it was impossible to become lyrical over King's Rules and Regulations.

It is impossible, of course, to become enthusiastic about rules and regulations of any sort, for the simple reason that by their very nature they invariably impose restrictions upon the freedom of action of individuals. When anything of the kind threatens British people, they write to The Times about it. Which is all to the good in time of peace; but in wartime, particularly in war against the most overbearing would-be conquerors the world has ever known, we should all think well before complaining about government orders which might temporarily deprive us of the right to live ourselves in our own chosen way.

The various orders that are issued from time to time by the National Selective Service are cases in point. Nobody will contend that these orders could possibly be welcomed by anybody. But those in authority have decided that they are necessary if we are to win this war without too much dislocation of our national life.

The object of the most recent order issued by the National Selective Service is to make available for essential work men who are now employed in non-essential occupations, that is, men who are producing things or rendering services which, in these difficult times, we can readily do without.

It is not pleasant to have that even tenor of our lives disrupted, but war is no respecter of persons. Thousands of our young men of military age have gone straight from the colleges and joined the armed forces of this country. Thousands of older men have given up lucrative jobs, in which the future seemed so bright, in order to play an honorable part in putting down oppression. Many of them have already given their lives. It is not too much, therefore, to ask that those men now engaged in non-essential occupations and who are not called to serve in the army, navy or air force, report to the nearest National Selective Service office for other employment, which will enable them to make a very direct contribution to our united war effort—Ottawa Citizen.

LEND MORE—SPEND LESS

Speaking to the National Council of Women of Canada last week in the Royal York hotel, Toronto, Hon. J. L. Heley, minister of finance, related the wartime budget of the average housewife to the budget of the country as a whole and appealed to Canadians to lend as much as possible and spend as little as possible.

If every woman would work out a budget for herself and her family in which the amount spent on non-essentials would be cut to a minimum, it would help reduce the danger of upward pressure on the price ceiling, Mr. Heley said.

Thanking the women of Canada for the way in which they have aided the government in fighting off inflation, he continued, "the organized opinion of women is a very powerful factor in our national life. I would like to see the people of this country so committed to the custom of spending less that it would almost be considered a social blunder to buy anything unnecessary or non-essential. Women are the only people who can bring this about."

By popularizing the idea of spending less you serve Canada in two ways, Mr. Heley stated: you aid in the fight against inflation and you make available more money for Canada to use in the fight against our enemies.

Appealing to the women for help in this most costly of all wars, he asked that women establish a social code which frowns on waste and unnecessary spending, and secondly that they help in the problem of conservation of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates.

SIGNAL HONOR FOR

B. C. CHINESE GIRL

AW1 Jean Lee, of Cranbrook, one of the first Chinese recruits accepted in the Royal Canadian Air Force Women's Division, was chosen a member of the guard of honor at Ottawa for Madame Chiang Kai-Shek during her recent visit there.

In addition to that she was singled out by China's first lady for a special questioning as to her work in the air force and her home town, which is Cranbrook.

She was born and grew up in Cranbrook, one of a large family. Her father operates a restaurant in Cranbrook and her education was secured at local school in her home town.

THE MAN BEHIND THE 51st HIGHLAND DIVISION, MAJOR-GENERAL DOUGLAS WIMBERLEY, M.C., D.S.O.

Major-General Douglas Wimberley, M.C., D.S.O., the man who has led the 51st Highland Division from victory to victory in the desert battle against Rommel's armored forces. He served with the Division in the last war, and in August, 1940, came back to it, being given command, after a short absence with another Division, in June, 1941. It is aptly said of him: "When he had a company, it was the best company in the battalion; when he had a battalion, it was the best battalion in the brigade, and when he had a brigade, he made it the best brigade in the Division." The story of the 51st Highland Division might well lead to a further parallel. Picture shows Major-General Wimberley discussing plans with some of his officers during the advance.

IT'S THE TRICKLE THAT COUNTS

War, so big that it spreads into almost every part of the world, is won by the organized little efforts of individuals. The monotonous left and right turns on the drill field, the collection of fats in the kitchen, the unvaried motions beside a lathe, the added work of feeding larger number of livestock and the extra number of daily taps on the typewriter, flow into and make possible the great stream of war effort destined to overwhelm Hitler and his shady colleagues.

While this is true, many of us fail to appreciate it sometimes. Our humdrum job can appear to be a remote from our idea of war as something exciting and important. It is fair and accurate, nevertheless, to say that this flood which will take proper care of the enemy depends entirely on the trickling flow of individual effort from all of us.

With that conception of our part in the job of war, we see more clearly the reason why individuals should buy Victory Bonds, no matter how small; why each war worker cannot afford to stay away from his shop unnecessarily, and why even in the simple matter of making an income tax return, the co-operation of the individual is vitally important.

Money which goes into the Dominion treasury from the income tax returns made by more than two million Canadian citizens, is just as necessary as the money received through the sale of Victory Bonds in shaping the military machine which is to be poured into the fields of Europe. When each individual jumps to meet the request of the Department of National Revenue for prompt completion and return of the income tax form, he is making a vital contribution to the efficiency of his country's war job.

The HEIR APPARENT

MEET THE HEIR APPARENT to the thrilling new world of to-morrow . . . the world he will help to build.

Already he's learning to stand on his own feet, a young man with ideas; self-reliant, courageous, ready to carve out a future by his own personal efforts.

No young Canadian asks to be wrapped in soft cotton wool! But he does demand scope for youthful ambition and a chance to build success in his own way and in his chosen field. Let us take care to preserve that spirit in all our post-war planning.

The Chinese thought of it first!

THOUSANDS of years ago, the Chinese used a form of gunpowder—a flaming chemical of defence dumped over battlements upon an invading enemy.

And from this age-old beginning has evolved smokeless powder made from high-proof alcohol. Like the airplane, it has done much to further the progress of mankind—but in evil hands it has meant tyranny and enslavement.

As the tempo of this war for liberty increases and our armed forces in all parts of the world swing to the offensive, more smokeless powder for our shells, bombs, depth charges and torpedoes is a vital necessity.

And because we have vast fields of grain and the facilities to convert them into high-proof alcohol, the United Nations shall have an overwhelming superiority of fire-power to pulverize the enemy into unconditional surrender.

Thus, China's primitive powder of defence has finally developed into the weapon to drive tyranny forever from this earth. In a way, it is the hand of ancient China reaching out in defence of free men everywhere.

Alcohol for War is also used in the manufacture of Synthetic Rubber, Drugs and Medicines, Photographic Film, Lacquers and Varnishes, Drilling Jigs, Compasses and other Navigation Instruments, Plastics, Shatterproof Glass and many other products. Every Seagram plant in Canada and the United States is engaged 100% in the production of high-proof Alcohol for War.

INCOME TAX RETURN
—DO IT NOW

Making 1942 income tax returns well before the June 30th deadline should appeal to 2,000,000 Canadians for patriotic as well as personal reasons, because every cent of the estimated $1,824,000,000 accruing from this source brings final victory nearer.

The cost of collecting income taxes from all sources in the fiscal year 1939-40 was $1.85 for each $100, and in 1942-43 dropped to 40 cents. This year, although the amount derived is greater than the total from 1915 to 1939, inclusive, the cost may be further reduced if returns are made promptly. A single cent on each $100 collected means a total of nearly $2,000,000, or $1 for every taxpayer.

Those who secure the proper forms from employer, post office or district inspector now will know just what information and receipts are needed. While the forms have been greatly simplified, it would be folly for anyone to put the matter off until the last few days. Worth heeding, too, is the warning that returns not in by June 30th incur a penalty of 5 per cent, not just of the balance owing at June 30th, but of the full tax.

In shaking off the old "catch-as-catch-can" for the new pay-as-you-earn plan, Canadians have welcomed cancellation of one-half of the 1942 tax liability on earned income. This means that most taxpayers will have a comparatively small balance to pay with their 1942 return. Many, in fact, will find they have an amount to their credit, in addition to the portion which will be refunded after the war with 2 per cent interest.

Two carloads of buffalo bones, 100,000 pounds, have been shipped to Chicago from Stavelay, to be used by a glue manufacturing company. The bones were found in a small valley below a steep bluff, and from their broken condition it is thought the Indians drove herds of buffalo over the bluff to their death. It is said there are enough bones in the surrounding valleys to keep the excavating crew of three busy for the next two years.

KNOX CHURCH IS SETTING OF FORD-SLEMKO WEDDING

A charming array of spring flowers provided the setting in Knox United church yesterday at six o'clock, for the marriage of Anne Jeanne Slemko, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Slemko, of Medicine Hat, Alberta, and Sigmund Robert William Ford, Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ford, 1970 2nd Avenue. The Rev. Dr. M. W. Lees officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. J. E. Carter and she chose for the occasion a charming white floor-length frock which featured an attractive long torso style bodice of pink corded tulle, into which the full net skirt was gathered. A coronet held her floor-length veil in place, and she carried a shower bouquet of crimson roses and fern.

Miss Thomasina Carter, as the bride's only attendant, wore a lovely pink frock designed similarly to that of the bride, with brocaded bodice and full net skirt. Her head-dress and bouquet were fashioned of pink carnations. Mr. Henry Hughes was groomsman.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, where Mrs. Ford assisted the young couple to receive the guests. She wore a smart two-piece black dress trimmed with white. He accessories were black and a corsage of crimson roses completed her ensemble.

A beautiful ivory lace cloth covered the bride's table, which was tastefully decorated with carnations, roses and snapdragons in two shades of pink. A similar arrangement of flowers was used for the small lace-covered table on which the wedding cake was placed.

After spending a leave in Trail, Signalman and Mrs. Ford will leave for Kingston, Ontario, where the groom is stationed.—Vancouver paper.

His father, George Fry, is a chief petty officer in the RCN, while his brother, John, is a private in the Provost Corps.

ARMY UNIVERSITY
COURSES ACROSS CANADA

Ottawa, June 21.—Students attending the Canadian Army university courses to be given at twelve universities across Canada will wear special shoulder flashes in the colors of the university they are attending and the lettering "Army University Course" in white superimposed on the flash.

Both enlisted men and students between the ages of 17 and 20, with the necessary educational and army qualifications, are eligible to fill the quota of 1,272 men who will receive a year's free university education.

The students will wear Army battle dress and live in university residence under Army discipline. They will parade to classes, and a minimum of five hours military training a week has been suggested by Army authorities. The students will not take the regular COTC courses at their universities.

The curriculum, adapted to each university, will give the soldier-student the knowledge of mathematics, physics and allied courses necessary to fit them for armored corps, engineering, service, ordnance and special branches of the Army.

Selection of a candidate, Army officers emphasized, was no guarantee he would receive a commission. Candidates are expected to make good on their own. On completion of their university course they will be required to take basic and advanced training and pass an officers' selection and appraisal board before taking training for a commission. As the candidates will be hand-picked, however, it is expected that the wastage will be small.

Candidates may apply to any university they wish to attend, and this should be done as soon as possible, due to the limited quota of 1,272 for all Canada. The course is not only given without charge for tuition and books, but the candidate receives the standard Army pay while getting his education.

The participating universities are: Acadia, Wolfville, N.S.; Mount Allison, Sackville, N.B.; McGill and Montreal, Montreal; Queen's, Kingston; Western Ontario, London; Toronto, Toronto; Ottawa, Ottawa; McMaster, Hamilton; Saskatchewan, Saskatoon; Alberta, Edmonton; British Columbia, Vancouver.

TWO-THIRDS of the total number of loans outstanding in Canada's Chartered Banks average less than $500 per loan.

Through bank loans, Canada's Chartered Banks help Canadians to benefit themselves, their fellows and their country. Many of these loans are small—but all contribute their share to the day-by-day activities of Canadian enterprise.

Some further facts about Canada's Banks:

Chartered Banks' loans related to agriculture as shown on the last official return to Parliament, totalled $340,118,473. This sum included loans to farmers, ranchers, fruit raisers and to grain dealers and grain exporters.

Every general manager today heading a Chartered Bank entered the bank as a junior in some small branch.

Up to and including February, 1943, no fewer than 6803 men and 154 women bank employees had enlisted in the armed forces.

Canadians in every walk of life and in every part of Canada are served by more than three thousand branches and sub-agencies maintained by the Chartered Banks to facilitate the nation's business.

Pilot Able To Help Sick Missionary In Lonely Arctic

Edmonton.—Airing officials disclosed how the faint crackle of a radio distress signal barley audible through the static of an Arctic summer night, brought help to a stricken missionary in the far north during the latter part of April.

The missionary, Father C. Adam, Oblate order priest with a parish along the lonely Arctic coast east of Coppermine, N.W.T., is now recovering in Fort Resolution hospital after being flown there by a Canadian Pacific Air Lines rescue plane.

Pilot Ernie Boffa and his mechanic, Thornton Tweed of Edmonton, were on a freighting trip at Yellowknife late in April when faint distress signals were received telling of Father Adam's illness at Burnside Harbor, Arctic outpost on Bathurst Inlet, 1,000 miles to the north.

Leading extra gasoline in their eight-passenger Norseman plane, Boffa and Tweed took off and had Father Adam in hospital at Fort Resolution, 150 miles south of Burnside Harbor, the next day.

Education In Canada

THE RECENT MEETINGS of the Canada-Newfoundland Education Association, held in Winnipeg, have brought before the public some of the problems connected with education in Canada at this time. Dr. W. P. Percival, of Quebec, was the chairman of a committee which made the first Dominion-wide survey ever conducted to study the most vital educational needs of Canada, and he presented the results of this survey during the conference. The main points included in the report were the recommendations that the capital expenses for schools be paid out of special funds and the cost of education be doubled; that all children be educated until their sixteenth year and that they should attend school during part of their seventeenth and eighteenth year; and finally, that the basic salary for teachers in Canada should be $1,321 a year, which is the present minimum in British Columbia.

Citizenship To Be Emphasized

The report also carried recommendations that in the future emphasis should be placed on principles of morality, and that the importance of worthy citizenship should be impressed in the schools. It also stressed the need for the training of pupils in useful crafts, as well as in academic subjects and the report stated that "the time has come when the call for more practical subjects has reached the irrefragable stage." The war has affected education, as it has almost every aspect of our national life, and it has brought into prominence many problems, some of which are being dealt with now, and others which are being studied in connection with the Dominion's plans for reconstruction in the years following the war. As in many other branches of public service, it is apparent that education in Canada could be developed to more fully meet the needs of the present day, and at the Canada-Newfoundland Education Association meetings these matters were studied.

War-time Needs Have Been Met

Educational needs of the country in wartime have been met by special provisions in the schools and universities in Canada. The Youth Training Plan, which has been carried on so effectively in the western provinces, has provided training for large numbers of technicians for the armed forces, munition plants, and other branches of war work. A great many men of the Royal Canadian Navy, The Royal Canadian Air Force, and the Army are also receiving technical training in Canadian universities. There are many questions of finance, of the adjustment of salary levels for teachers, of the creation of larger school units, and of a broadening of the curriculum, which should be given consideration now by all thinking people here. Education is a fundamental factor in the shaping of the life of the nation, and as it is improved, many of our present social and economic problems will disappear.

Assistant Section Officer Kathryn A. Forbes, daughter of Hon. Harry C. She is the wife of Capt. R. B. Forbes, 4th Canadian Infantry Brigade, Canadian army overseas, and was formerly junior administration officer at Uplands. She was stationed at air force headquarters for a short time being posted overseas. A brother, Pilot Officer J. C. Nixon, R.C.A.F., was killed overseas in 1941.

Garden Pests

Department Of Agriculture Suggests Ways Of Protecting Gardens And Plants

Outwits are present in most gardens almost every year. These greyish-brown caterpillars feed at night, cutting off transplants and seedlings at the ground level. They slide in the soil during the day. The Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture suggests that in small gardens, plants can be protected by wrapping paper loosely around the stems or by placing fine cane, with top and bottom removed, over the transplants. Be sure that the lower end of either protector is embedded in the soil.

In larger gardens, where the area to be protected is more extensive, poisoned bran bait will have to be used. This bait is composed of five pounds of bran, three ounces of paris green and two quarts of water.

Before transplanting, the bait should be sprinkled lightly over the garden. This should be done in the evening, following a warm day. Two applications are recommended at an interval of three days. As this bait is poisonous it must not be left exposed in containers where it will be available to young children, livestock, or birds.

VERY EXPRESSIVE
Much that we admire in the English is symbolized by the way Winston Churchill pronounces the word "Nazi." In contrast to the careful, cultured, and somewhat respectful "Notzy" of the radio announcers, his "Nazzzy" is a simple smart of derision, implying that it's impossible for a plain man to get the hang of any such foreign word and in this instance, certainly not worth the trouble.—The New Yorker.

SMILE AWHILE

He—Say, who is that funny-looking fellow who drives your car and works around in the garden? He always frowns at me whenever he sees me here.

She—Oh, don't mind him. That's only father.

"You can get anything at a mail-order house," remarked the lady next door.

"Everything, alas, but a male," sighed the spinster.

"Please, sir, I don't like the soup, sir."

"Nonsense!" said the officer briskly. "That soup is good for you. It's full of vitamins."

"There!" said the next private in a triumphant whisper. "I told you they wasn't flies!"

John and Sydney Drew, of the famous theatrical family of Drews, once found themselves playing in the same town at the same time—but in different attractions.

Junior—I am using it, mother dear. I've got the dog tied to the leg of the table with it.

A gentleman from Utah once lured Mark Twain into an argument concerning polygamy, elaborating the humorist with long and tedious exposition in favor of plural marriages. Mark strove valiantly to beat down the claims of his adversary, but with little success.

"Plur the man chattered Twain to cite some passage of Scripture expressly forbidding polygamy."

"Certainly," replied the humorist. "No man can serve two masters."

"Walter, it's almost an hour since I ordered that turtle soup."

"Sorry, sir, but you know how slow turtles are."

Mistress—Mary, how is it the eggs are sometimes boiled soft and sometimes quite hard?

Mary—Well, mum, I'm sure I don't know. I puts them in regular as the clock strikes eight, and I takes them out without fail when I hear 'em down that go by.

Ellen: "Well, I suppose you're plenty angry because I came home with this black eye last night."

Her (sweetly): "Not at all, dear. You may not remember it, but when you came home you didn't have that black eye."

The head of the house was reading a newspaper article very carefully. Presently he remarked to his wife: "Do you know, dear, I think there is something in what this article says—that the cleverness of the father often proves a stumbling-block to the son."

His wife heaved a sigh of relief. "Well, thank goodness," she said, "our Bobby won't have anything to fall over."

The Art Of Forgetting

Try And Remember Only The Good Points Of Your Friends

If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life, forget your neighbor's faults, forget the slanders you have heard, forget the temptations, forget the fault-finding, and give little thought to the cause that provoked it, forget the peculiarities of your friends, and only remember the good points that make you fond of them; forget all personal quarrels and histories, which you may have heard by accident, and which if repeated, would seem a thousand times worse than they are, blot out as far as possible all the disagreeables of life. They will come and will grow larger as you remember them, and constant thought of acts of meanness or worse still malice, will only tend to make us more familiar with them. Obliterate everything disagreeable from yesterday. Begin with a clean slate for today, and write upon it, for sweet memory's sake, only those things that are lovely and lovable.—Exchange.

New Plane Now Being Designed Is All-Canadian

Ottawa.—Munitions Minister Howe told the House of Commons that the work of designing a four-engined plane for future Canadian transport work has started but that production is at least two years away. Mr. Howe made this statement after he referred to a new cargo-carrying plane of "trans-oceanic type" which was being made now and would soon be coming out of a Canadian factory.

His parliamentary assistant, Lionel Chevrier (Lib., Stormont), declined to comment on the minister's statement but elsewhere it was learned that this cargo-carrying plane is a version of the Lancaster, now being made at Malton, Ont., the first to be test-flown soon. A reliable informant told The Canadian Press that it is the intention to turn out some Lancasters with commercial fuselages instead of bomber fuselages.

Mr. Howe said outside the house, that the Malton, Ont., Lancaster plant would supply the planes for Canada's new trans-Atlantic air service, scheduled to start early in July. Presumably it will be the commercial version of the Lancaster that will ultimately be used.

After referring to the plane of "trans-oceanic type" now being built, Mr. Howe said:

"But we are doing something that has never been done before. We are designing a plane which will be all-Canadian and which we think will be the plane of the future."

The minister was answering questions about aircraft production from J. G. Diefenbaker (Prog. Con., Lake Centre), who questioned why Canada was not expanding aircraft production and getting into production of cargo-carrying planes.

Mr. Howe said Canada is making cargo planes, the Nordyn Norseman, as rapidly as they can be turned out and went on to tell of the new plane soon coming out of the oceanic type and the other in the design stage.

Mr. Diefenbaker said 25 per cent of the United States war program was aircraft production and wanted to know why Canada was not doing more in that line. "But why engine production had not started. Mr. Howe said Canada is spending proportionately as much as the United States on aircraft production, 25 per cent of the whole war program, $1,000,000,000 out of a total program of $3,500,000,000. The same proportion held good for the past two years.

"We are increasing the production of aeroplanes and working very hard at it. We still have to find quite a few thousand men to bring our production up to our present objective," said Mr. Howe. He said any man with any skill would be hired if he presented himself at an aircraft plant.

ARRIVE SAFELY

Another Large Contingent Of R.C.A.F. Men Now In Britain

An East Coast Canadian Port—Thousands of young Canadian air men have arrived in Britain after the safe passage of the largest R.C.A.F. movement ever to leave this port.

Sailing with them were flying men from practically every Dominion, and representatives of the fighting forces of Norway, The Netherlands, France and other countries.

Rounding out the completely air force movement was a small group of Canadian girls, members of the women's division of the R.C.A.F.

Among the veterans aboard was Sqdn. Ldr. S. L. Sigurdson of Wynyard, Sask., with nine years of flying under his belt. He first won his private flying license at Winnipeg in 1934, and three years later joined the R.A.F. He returned to Canada two years ago and had been instructing since at Moose Jaw and Weyburn, Sask.

Another pilot officer among the hundreds of complete air crews was N. M. Thomson, Saskatoon.

Canada Plans To Carry Air Mail Overseas

Ottawa.—The wings of Canadian air service, now travelling from Newfoundland to Victoria, will soar over the Atlantic ocean before another month is done, Munitions Minister Howe told the House of Commons.

The minister announced that arrangements have been completed for establishment of a Canadian government wartime trans-Atlantic air service to carry mail to and from the Canadian armed forces in the British Isles and to transport members of the forces, government officials and technicians engaged in production of war materials.

"The new war service is not a commercial one, a permanent one," said Mr. Howe. "It will carry no fare-paying passengers."

"Space on the aircraft from Ottawa will be allocated by the deputy minister of transport in Canada, Lt.-Col. C. P. Edwards. Space on aircraft westward will be allocated by the Canadian high commissioner in London, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey."

Mr. Howe said outside the house that the service would be conducted by Canadian-built Lancaster bombers, the first of which is scheduled to come off the assembly line at Malton, Ont., shortly.

Development of the air mail service for the forces was forecast last year by Postmaster General Mulock, following a visit to the United Kingdom. Col. Mulock said pressure on other air services across the ocean for the transport of mail to the forces was heavy, and the Dominion must consider establishing its own service.

In his statement, Mr. Howe commented that the growing strength of the Canadian armed forces overseas, and their increasing activities, had made it necessary to establish "this quick and effective means of communication with the United Kingdom for men and materials."

"The need for a speedy and regular troops' airmail service is particularly pressing. More than 250,000 members of the Canadian armed forces now are in the United Kingdom. During the past year, due to lack of space on aircraft, they have unfortunately not been receiving mail regularly and quickly. It is expected that the initial flight of the new service will occur early in July."

The minister said it was anticipated the service would take care of all airmail mail and all airmail parcels. It was not believed that parcels could be carried at any time.

The route to be flown by the Lancasters in the wartime service already had been pioneered by the civilian air line service, Trans-Canada Air Lines. O. T. Larsen, vice-president of T.C.A., said at Winnipeg that T.C.A. has had crews on North Atlantic service for a year and a half, with a number of pioneer and test flights made for the study of aircraft and routes.

Over the whole field of war production output, in the United Kingdom, in 1942 was 50% above that of 1941.

Guerrillas In Greece Refuse To Cease Their Activities

Ankara.—A German-Italian drive against Greek guerrillas, with tanks, planes and artillery in support, has failed to smoke out the Greeks from their mountain strongholds, information from Greek sources said.

According to these sources, Germans issued an ultimatum late in May directing the guerrillas to cease their activities before June 4 under the threat of powerful repressive action.

The guerrillas were said to have ignored the ultimatum and a strong force was reported sent against them. Only a few of the irregulars were captured, the Greek informants said.

Department Of Munitions Has Many New Ideas

Ottawa.—Savings already effected in the operations of the munitions department were described in the House of Commons by Lionel Chevrier, parliamentary assistant to Munitions Minister Howe. He declared that after 3½ years of war, with an unprecedented outlay of public funds, there have been few charges of graft and almost no accusations of improper use of war money. "In the few cases where waste and dishonesty have been discovered, the department has acted quickly and effectively," he said.

He said that production units of the department are carrying on a conservation campaign by which it is expected $155,000,000 will be saved through improvements in the use of material, machine tools and man hours.

By redesigning the body-forging of a Bren gun nearer to the finished shape it was possible to save 1,200,000 pounds of stainless steel and a large quantity of scarce chrome as well as 10,000 man hours on machining. The value of the saving was placed at $25,000.

By replacing a small catch on the Bren gun magazine formerly built up with welding rod, by three press operations, savings of 198,000 pounds of welding rod, $30,000 worth of oxygen and acetylene, $15,000 man-hours and 10 machine tools were saved, with an estimated total of $329,000.

By redesigning the bipod assembly of the Boys anti-tank rifle, with malleable iron castings instead of steel forgings, savings valued at $1,750,000 were effected.

Making 25-pounder shell fuses of zinc die castings instead of brass bar stock saved 44,000,000 pounds of brass, $16,000 manhours, and eliminated 15 machine tools, a total saving valued at over $6,500,000.

Hundreds of successful changes had been made in the Universal carrier. One in the track sprocket alone saved $1,700,000.

Changes made in the packing of motor vehicles for overseas shipment saved 28,000,000 cubic feet of shipping space, 3,635 freight cars, over $2,000,000 worth of lumber and nails and over $1,000,000 in labor.

New Terminal For Montreal

Hon. J. R. Michaud, Minister of Transport, will officially open the new Canadian National station at Montreal on July 14. The next day, Canada's newest terminal will begin business. An expansion and modernization of the railway's facilities in the metropolis, it has brought about the elimination of grade crossings, the extension of yards, the co-ordination of a vast network of tracks to provide for faster handling of freight, an imperative need in time. The station building itself is modern in design and includes such up-to-date features as a nursery for travellers' children. All train operations over the approaches and within the station area will be by electric locomotion. The photograph, showing the Dorchester street elevation, looks towards the Royal Bank and other buildings on Montreal's St. James street.

Method Used For Taxing Overtime May Be Changed

Ottawa.—Revenue Minister Gibson told the House of Commons that while there is no possibility of a man earning less by working more under present tax laws, the department of national revenue is making studies with a view to finding more satisfactory ways of taxing overtime earnings.

Both Mr. Gibson and Munitions Minister Howe denied statements by C. E. Johnston (N.D., Bow River), that absenteeism was caused by the tax laws taking away all or more than the extra money earned by working longer hours. "There is no combination of circumstances under the present tax laws which penalizes a man for working more," said Mr. Howe. "It is impossible for a man to work more and earn less. A man earns more if he works more."

He said Mr. Johnston did not understand the tax laws and asked him not to make statements "misleading and dangerously misleading" to workmen without looking into the law carefully. "There are enough destructive stories abroad now without having them spread from this House of Commons," said Mr. Howe.

Mr. Johnston said if a woman earned $600 a year she paid no tax. If he earned $681 she paid a tax which reduced her income below $600. Mr. Gibson said this was not so. No tax reduced an income below the exemption level.

Clarence Gillis (C.C.F., Cape Breton South) said where income tax was deducted at the source on weekly earnings on the basis of overtime pay the actual deductions sometimes resulted in a man receiving less than he would if no overtime were worked. At the end of the year you can get a refund if you can get hold of one of those forms and get a couple of lawyers to fill it out for you," he said.

The system militated against the whole basis of seeking increased war production on an overtime basis. The people did not understand the rebates available at the end of the year and in any case it was hard to get rebates. It might take a year or two before they could be obtained.

Mr. Gibson said overtime might raise a man into a higher bracket than the one in which he would eventually have to pay. That was causing the department some concern and was being studied to see if some other methods of taxing overtime could be found, which would equalize the tax and not cause dissatisfaction.

Mr. Howe said in connection with coal production, that he thought workers were discouraged from overtime work which was essential to increased production as there was little prospect of getting enough additional men into the mines, either from the army or elsewhere, to raise the output.

SERVICE TRAINING

Two Weeks' Course For Air Cadets Held At Saskatoon

Winnipeg (R.C.A.F. News Service).—So that Air Cadet officers may have the advantage of service training, 35 of them are attending a two weeks' instructional course at No. 7 Initial Training School, Saskatoon, Sask., headquarters of No. 2 Training Command, R.C.A.F., announced. Another course will be held in August at which approximately 100 air cadet officers are expected to attend. The place where this course is to be held will be decided later.

Air Cadet Officers in No. 2 Training Command are largely responsible for the training of 47 squadrons of Air Cadets, made up of nearly 3,000 teen youths. There are 12 squadrons alone in Winnipeg, and the rest are identified with localities in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Northern Ontario.

Up to now cadets had their best opportunity to become acquainted with life in the R.C.A.F. when they visited summer camps on air force stations in the Command. Now, when their officers complete the instructional course, they will be able to bring more of the air force atmosphere direct to their squadrons.

Quarters for Air Cadet officers attending the course are to be supplied by the R.C.A.F. Some may be under canvas for the two weeks. Officers will work and drill in service black trousers and shirts. While attending the Air Cadet officers will be honorary members of the R.C.A.F. Officers' Mess and are to be accorded full messing privileges. Familiarization flights will be part of their instructional program.
